Cetis, Inc., a U.S. corporation headquartered in Colorado, designs, engineers, and manufactures analog and VoIP telephones. Formed through the 2006 merger of Scitec and TeleMatrix, and the 2009 acquisition of Teledex assets, Cetis products are built to the highest ISO-9001, RoHS, and WEEE standards, and backed by the Cetis global distribution and support network. Today, it is estimated that more than 7,000 Cetis channel partners have installed more than 30 million Cetis telephones at 200,000 commercial locations globally. Cetis is a preferred or approved supplier to all leading hotel corporations globally. Cetis invented and launched the first hotel guest room telephone with programmable guest service keys and informational faceplate in 1982 with the introduction of the Teledex Diamond. Today, Diamond Series is still the most popular hotel phone in the world. In 2016, Cetis launched a suite of electric appliances designed to complement contemporary hotel guest room décor, and unify the look and color of appliances inside the hotel guest room, and in residential and workplace environments.
